

About Japanese OBGYN Hospital

Once you find out you're pregnant, decide where you'll have your baby.

General Hospital with OBGYN department

OBGYN Doctor

Big hospital

In addition to the "OBGYN department" that deals with delivering babies, there are many "other departments."

Maternity Hospital

OBGYN Doctor

This is a hospital specializing in OBGYN, where babies are born.

Large in scale with over 20 beds.

Obstetric clinic/hospital

OBGYN Doctor

This is a small hospital specializing in obstetrics.

★Some obstetric clinics/hospitals only offer prenatal checkups and the baby needs to be delivered at a large hospital.

Midwifery clinic

Midwife

There are no OBGYN doctors.

Midwives perform prenatal checkups, help deliver the baby, and provide postnatal checkups.

Pregnant women who have health problems with the mother or baby should go to hospitals instead of this type of midwifery clinic.

★ There are also midwifery clinics that can help you give birth in your own home.

For the basic process of giving birth at hospitals in Toshima Ward, please refer to the following page

If you are unsure where to give birth, consult a public health nurse or midwife.

If you have any questions, you can also consult with a support group!

About Japanese OBGYN Hospital

The basic process when giving birth at hospitals in Toshima Ward

Small hospital or clinics that only offer prenatal check-ups

We perform prenatal checkups for pregnant women who have no problems with the mother and baby.

We are in contact.

Hospitals that handle the entire process from check-ups to childbirth

When a baby is born, a doctor at a large hospital will attend the birth.

If you don't understand anything, please consult a public health nurse or a support group!
